Description

The EQuip magnetic cable management channel is a practical solution for organizing and tidying up cables in homes, offices, or any space with multiple electronic devices. This innovative system consists of a discreet channel with a magnetic strip running along its length. The magnetic strip attracts and holds cables securely in place, preventing them from tangling or falling onto the floor.

This magnetic cable management solution not only enhances the aesthetic appeal of a space but also promotes safety by reducing tripping hazards and protecting cables from damage. By keeping cables organized and easily accessible, it simplifies maintenance, troubleshooting, and cable identification. The magnetic cable management channel is a versatile and efficient way to create a clutter-free environment while maintaining a functional and organized workspace or living area.
