ICY BOX IB-1919M-C42 USB4® M.2 NVMe enclosure

High-speed performance with USB4®

Harness the full power of USB4 technology with our IB-1919M-C42 M.2 NVMe enclosure, delivering unprecedented data transfer speeds of up to 40 Gbit/s. Whether you're transferring large multimedia files, editing high-resolution videos, or accessing complex data sets, USB4® ensures you can work with efficiency and speed, eliminating bottlenecks and optimising your workflow.

Toolless installation

Simplify your setup process with the IB-1919M-C42's innovative toolless design, allowing you to install your M.2 NVMe SSD quickly and securely without the need for additional tools. Just slide your SSD into place, secure it effortlessly, and connect the enclosure to your device—it's that simple. This user-friendly feature not only saves you time but also eliminates the hassle of dealing with small screws or intricate assembly steps, ensuring a seamless experience whether you're upgrading your storage or transferring data on the go.

Robust aluminium housing

Crafted from premium aluminum, the IB-1919M-C42 not only exudes durability but also serves as a robust shield for your M.2 2280 PCIe NVMe SSD. The aluminum housing not only protects your drive from physical damage but also acts as an efficient heat sink, dissipating heat effectively to maintain optimal operating temperatures even during prolonged usage. This ensures your SSD operates reliably and maintains peak performance over time, making it ideal for demanding professional environments and frequent travel.
