Requirements

For the latest requirements, please visit www.startech.com/DP2DVIS or www.startech.com/MDP2DVIS.com.

- DisplayPort enabled computer system/video card (compatible with both Multi-mode DisplayPort DP++ and Single-mode DisplayPort video cards)
- DVI-D (digital) enabled display device (i.e. monitor, projector, HDTV, etc.)

Installation

1. Make sure the video display device (i.e. monitor, projector, HDTV, etc.) is turned off, before connecting to the adapter.
2. Connect a standard male/male DVI-D cable from the converter adapter to the video display device.
3. Turn on the video display device.

4. Connect the DisplayPort or Mini DisplayPort connector on the converter adapter to the video source device (i.e. computer, laptop, etc.). The computer can be on or off, as it should be able to automatically detect and configure the adapter and display device (refer to documentation that came with the computer).
5. Once the external display is detected and configured, the video output should be visible on the display device. Some adjustments may be necessary from the video source devices output settings for optimal viewing.

FCC Compliance Statement

This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
- Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help

This device complies with part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions:

(1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation. Changes or modifications not expressly approved by StarTech.com could void the user's authority to operate the equipment.

Industry Canada Statement
